

This is the funny story that that kid Brede had sent me about Jord. Enjoy 😊

“So, as i was a sophmore, and chiv a senior, we got to know each other! We had lunch once in a while, and we were both skiers, I was an alpine skier. And, I was trying to get bigger, so I ate a lot naturally! and, whenever we had lunch together, and he saw my plate and was very surprised. only thing that came to chiv's mind is: "do you shit a lot?“, and he kept saying that every time he saw me for months! i had a different answer every time!! it was hilarious though, and chiv was always a funny dude!!”

Brede Halsnes, class of 2003 norway, went to whiteman freshman and sophmore years.
